Materials & Views

Share materials and views on AI.

By sharing your materials and views here, you are directly contributing to the European debate on AI, and thus helping the European Commission to inform its policymaking.

1. Blog

Provide information on the Commission's work on AI.

Under the section "Blog", you can find information on the Commission's work on AI. Your feedback will be solicited by experts or officials of the European Commission.

2. Forum

Host a forum for discussion of AI-related topics.

Under the section "Forum", you can raise AI-related topics and engage in open-ended peer discussions with other members of the European AI Alliance.

3. Documents

Maintain a collection of public documents on AI.

Under the section "Documents", a collection of public documents on AI can be found. These concern documents published by the European Commission or the Member States, as well as documents published by third countries and international organizations.

4. Library

Host a repository of reports, papers, and other documents on Artificial Intelligence.

The "Open library", is a repository of all types of reports, papers, and other interesting documents on Artificial Intelligence which members of the European AI Alliance can add in order to share these with other members. You can either upload a document or share its link. Don't forget to mention the correct source!

5. Meetings & Events

Provides overviews of the upcoming meetings and events on AI.

Finally, the section "Events", provides an overview of the upcoming meetings and events on AI. These can be closed events, open events, or webinars. You are able to add relevant events on AI, however, the platform moderators will ensure their relevance to the Alliance.
