

About WIN

The Well Being In the Nation (WIN) Network looks to the leadership of people in places across the country who confront challenges and enrich health and well-being in a way that is inclusive of everyone. We believe that together, we can secure intergenerational well-being for all.

We imagine several interconnected cooperative streams of work that members of the WIN Network will lead which are [documented as goals in this StratML rendition]

Vision

Intergenerational well-being for all

Mission

To break the cycle of poverty and injustice

Values

Well-Being: Well Being In the Nation distinguishes two related ways of viewing health and well-being:

Perspectives: Personal Health & Well-Being: Individual perspectives and experiences that affect how we think, feel, and function, as well as how we feel about our lives as a whole.

Experiences

Places: Vital Conditions for Health & Well-being: Properties of places and institutions that we all depend on to be healthy and well.

Institutions

Metrics: Well-being In the Nation measures are nationally endorsed measures that help measure well-being in an intergenerational way across sectors, with a focus on improving equity and the well-being of people and places.
